Robert H. Felman, MD is board certified in Gastroenterology, Hepatology, and Internal Medicine. He offers a full range of consultative services in diseases of the digestive system, biliary tract and liver. This includes upper and lower endoscopic procedures, endoscopic retrograde cholangiopancreatography (ERCP), and endoscopic placement of feeding tubes.

Dr. Felman is a third generation physician. He was born in Trenton, NJ., and raised in Philadelphia, PA and Gainesville, FL. He graduated Phi Beta Kappa with a BA in biology from Oberlin College in 1981. After he received his Doctor of Medicine Degree from the University of Florida in 1985, he completed an Internal Medicine internship and residency training at the University of Michigan Hospitals and Clinics. Dr. Felman completed a three year fellowship in gastroenterology and hepatology at the University of Iowa Hospitals and opened his practice in Venice in 1992.

Dr. Felman maintains staff privileges at Venice Regional Medical Center and the Gulfcoast Endoscopy Center of Venice. He is a member of the Florida Gastroenterologic Society, and a Fellow of the American College of Gastroenterology. He is married, and has three sons. He plays the clarinet with the Charlotte Symphony, is a tournament Scrabble player, and enjoys woodworking and racquetball.

Dr. Felman is committed to the provision of compassionate, convenient, and high quality care in gastroenterology and hepatology. Office hours are 8:30am-4:30pm, Monday thru Thursday, except for holidays. An on call physician is available after hours and on weekends.
